Good Morning! Have You Bought Your Liberty Bond?

A REMARKABLE DISPLAY OF WINTER COATS

The wonderful fabrics are very beautifully shown, embracing coats for every hour of the day.

Women's many needs and preferences have been minutely studied, and a special consideration shown for them—at the same time we have maintained individuality of style.

Street and General-wear Coats, $25 to $115.

Afternoon Coats, $47.50 to $125.

Evening Wraps, $55 to $225.

STREET AND GENERAL WEAR COATS are very attractively made, including the smart fitted types of soft rich fabrics of utmost warmth and lightness of weight; many are handsomely trimmed with fur, and others are plain. Some Plain Velour and Camel's Hair Cloth Coats trimmed with velvet and plush at $29.50 are exceptionally good values; the new Silvertone Cloth Coats, full pleated and with crush belt, $45 and $57.50.

In DRESSY AFTERNOON COATS fur is lavishly used, but there are many of the more simple designs. BEAUTIFUL EVENING WRAPS of Velvet, Satin, Gros de Londres, Broadcloth and Velour—a wide range of exquisite modes.

The Regulation Army Flannel Shirt at $4.50 Is a Most Exceptional Value

And it is not only intended for wear by men in the service, but it is also a splendid shirt for all men who work in the open. It is warm, comfortable and so well made that you will never have any trouble with its service-giving qualities.

This shirt measures up to every requirement of the Army regulations, in weight, in warmth, in service—double or lined chest and double elbows, two button-over pockets, easy form-fitting collar and wrists; standard olive drab color.

We bought large quantities and bought them early, otherwise the price would be considerably higher than $4.50 today.

Main floor, F street.

Men's New Gloves

Embodying the qualities that men have come to expect of us in style, excellence of skins, consistency of color and proper sizing.

Tan Cape Gloves, mostly fancy stitched and black embroidered, $2.00 and $2.50 pair.

Natural Chamorro Gloves, $2.00 pair.

Gray Suede Gloves, $2.75 pair.

Main floor, F street.

Men's Neckwear

IN A LAVISH DISPLAY OF RICH COLORS AND SUPERB DESIGNS.

Large floral patterns are favored, in self-tones or in slightly different colors, either harmonizing or contrasting. Very elegant and exclusive designs of Persian and Paisley origin, with a wealth of shades beautifully blended; regimental stripes, plain colors. The choice in shapes still remains full, large and generous, the amplitude of material making a particularly attractive showing, now that vests are cut lower.

$1.00 to $3.00.

Attention---All Who Have Been Canning and Drying Foods!

Since the Lectures and Demonstrations on Conserving of Foods were held this past spring and summer in our Auditorium, under direction of the Department of Agriculture, so much interest has been aroused in the results—and we hear of so many who have availed themselves of the helpful instructions—that we are going to give every one an opportunity to display just how much and how well they have "done their bit" in food conservation.

Therefore we are going to hold
A HOME CANNING AND FOOD CONSERVATION EXHIBIT
in the Woodward & Lothrop Auditorium,
November, 1st, 2d and 3d, 1917.

And are going to award a number of prizes in order to make it interesting and worth while.

CLASS A—PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED TO

1. The girl or boy not over nineteen (19) years,
2. The adult woman or man,
3. The family (combined labors of mother or father and children), who will furnish the best exhibit, based on quality, variety and quantity of CANNED (GLASS CONTAINERS) VEGETABLES, FRUITS, SOUPS AND MEATS.

First prize, Ten-dollar ($10.00) Merchandise Order.

Second prize, Five-dollar ($5.00) Merchandise Order, for each class. Six prizes in all.

CLASS B—To the exhibitor of the best single jar of any

1. VEGETABLE.
2. FRUIT.
3. SOUP OR MEAT.

First prize, Five-dollar ($5.00) Merchandise Order.

Second prize, Two dollars fifty cents ($2.50) Merchandise Order, for each class. Six prizes in all.

CLASS C—The best EXHIBITION OF DRIED VEGETABLES AND FRUITS:

First prize, Ten-dollar ($10.00) Merchandise Order.

Second prize, Five-dollar ($5.00) Merchandise Order.

CLASS D—The best exhibition of a SINGLE VARIETY OF DRIED VEGETABLES AND FRUITS:

First prize, Five-dollar ($5.00) Merchandise Order.

Second prize, Two dollars fifty cents ($2.50) Merchandise Order.

Notice to Contestants

All prizes in Merchandise Orders, which will allow the winner to select from our store the prize most desired.

All exhibits entered in whatever class must represent the results of actual personal efforts of the exhibitors.

Judges to be selected from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Exhibitors must deliver their products to our Auditorium not later than 4 P. M. Tuesday, October 30th, 1917.

Entry and Registration Blanks are now being printed and can be obtained by leaving your name with the Food Conservation Desk, 8th floor, adjoining Auditorium.

Smart Fur Styles in Sets, Capes and Coats

With Furs used more than ever the past summer, naturally their vogue has increased for this winter's usage, when they are not worn simply for their beauty and modishness, but for comfort and warmth. There never was such a diversity, either in skins, colors or the large number of designs in which they are shown. This is particularly true of the Neck Furs that range from the small collarettes to the body-covering capes, very effectively combined with chiffons, silks and Georgette Crepe. The Coats are handsomely lined.

Fox Fur Sets continue to be the choice of girls and young women. Our assortment includes every color and black and white.

$35.00 to $100 Set.
